

CHAPTER 48

An Act to assure the expansion of colonization in the Témiscamingue region

[Assented to, the 28th of April, 1939]

WHEREAS an Indian reserve exists in the county of Preamble.
Témiscamingue called "Nédelec Indian Reserve";

Whereas such Reserve is enclosed between various municipalities and, in particular, separates the municipalities of Nédelec and Notre-Dame-du-Nord;

Whereas the settlers established in the municipalities contiguous to this Reserve are isolated and, in order to communicate from one municipality to another, have to go around the Reserve and even by way of the Province of Ontario;

Whereas the Indians have never exploited the Reserve, for agricultural or other purposes;

Whereas this state of affairs is harmful to the agricultural, educational and commercial development of the parishes surrounding such territory; prevents the farmers of this region from extending their agricultural establishments and from settling their sons near the paternal property and paralyses commercial relations between the municipalities neighbouring upon the Reserve and the other municipalities of the county;

Whereas a classification of the soils shows that at least ninety per cent of the land in such Reserve is suitable for cultivation;

Whereas the present Government, desirous of assuring the settlers and farmers of the parishes adjacent to the Indian Reserve of Nédelec of commercial outlets and of procuring new lands for them for the expansion of colonization and the consolidation of existing parishes, has taken the steps and the measures necessary to assure the agricultural development of this region of south Témiscamingue;
