

CHAPTER 46

An Act respecting investigations into industrial disputes

[Assented to, the 19th of February, 1932]

WHEREAS the act of the Parliament of Canada intituled: "Industrial Disputes Investigation Act" (Revised Statutes of Canada, 1907, chapter 112) does not apply to industrial disputes which are exclusively under the legislative jurisdiction of any of the Provinces of Canada;

Whereas the said act, as amended by the act of the Parliament of Canada, 15-16 George V, chapter 14, section 1, enacts that it shall apply, amongst others, to any dispute exclusively within the legislative jurisdiction of any one of the Provinces of Canada, which, by the legislation of such Province, is placed under the provisions of such act;

Whereas it has appeared suitable, in view of the above-stated amendment, that the provisions of the said act and amendments be made applicable to industrial disputes of the nature of those comprised within the definition of "industrial dispute" in section 2 of the said act but which come exclusively within the legislative jurisdiction of this Province;

Therefore, His Majesty, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and of the Legislative Assembly of Quebec, enacts as follows:

1. The Revised Statutes, 1925, are amended by inserting therein, after chapter 97 thereof, the following: R. S., c. 97 A.
added.
