[Assented to 25th April, 1903]

WHEREAS Joseph Adélaré Provencher has, by petition, represented :

Preamble.

That he followed a course of studies, but was unable, for private reasons, to comply with the requirements of the law respecting the indentures and admission to the study of law ;

That, from January, 1897, to April, 1898, he studied in the office of François Siméon Tourigny, advocate and King's Counsel, practising in the city of Three Rivers ;

That he has filled the office of deputy prothonotary for nearly five years, and that of deputy clerk of the Crown for one year, in Three Rivers, and as such has acquired sufficient legal knowledge to entitle him to be admitted to the Bar, in addition to considerable experience in the procedure required for the practice of law ;

That, through his studies and experience, he possesses all the necessary qualifications for a practising advocate, and is fully qualified to practise such profession, as established by the certificates produced ;

That, as deputy prothonotary, he is constantly in communication with practising advocates, and is frequently called upon to interpret the provisions of the Civil Code and the Code of Civil Procedure, and that, without the title of advocate, he does not possess the necessary standing to give weight to the decisions he has to render ;

That all the members of the Bar of the section of Three Rivers have approved of the passing of an act authorizing the Bar of the Province of Quebec to admit him amongst its members, after examination, although he has not been regularly admitted to study ;

That he is prepared to pay the students' and practitioners' fees before presenting himself for examination ;

Whereas the petitioner has prayed that an act be passed to that effect, and it is expedient to grant such prayer ;
