An Act to amend the act 29th Vict., chap. 17, relating to Life Assurance.

[Assented to 5th April, 1869.]

Preamble.

WHEREAS by an act passed in the 29th year of her majesty's reign, being chapter 17, intituled: "An act to secure to wives and children the benefit of assurance on the lives of their husbands and parents;" it was enacted by the third section, that it should be lawful within one year after the passing of said act, for any person by writing indorsed upon or attached to any policy of insurance on his life, effected and issued before the passing of said act, to declare that the policy and insurance shall be for the benefit of his wife, or of his wife and children, or of his wife or some or one of his children, or of his children only, or of some or one of them, and to apportion the amount of the insurance money as he might deem proper, when the insurance is declared to be for
